

Abstract of the Disclosure

A print service system capable of providing effectively a print service in the amusement park is provided. The print service system is constructed to 5 include a print service server connected to a network, which is established in an amusement park, access points, and a digital camera. The print service server executes a print service based on printing order information that is received via the network and contains receipt information 10 designating a receiving spot of a print. Prior to reception of the print receiving spot information included in the order information, the information for assisting the decision of the receiving spot are generated and transmitted. The candidate information of the receiving 15 spot and the information about attractions corresponding to the candidate information are included in the assist information.